“To the P scales and beyond!”

Wednesday 21st February 2018

3.30 -5.30pm Sebert Wood Primary School, Bury St Edmunds

Making sense of P scales planning and assessment for SEND children working at very low levels.

Are you a teacher or SENDco with a child in your class who is working at a much lower level than their peers? In this 2 hr course, we will go though the government guidance for P scale planning and the future of special education, looking at the Rochford recommendations. We will explore ways of differentiating the curriculum and show you how to identify and evidence small step progress. At the end of the course, you will feel confident that the experience for these pupils can be motivating, meaningful and measurable.

This event will also highlight lots of easily accessible early motor skills activities that can be replicated in mainstream classrooms.
