

Exploring barriers to learning for our most vulnerable.

Using research evidence to support better outcomes.

May 23rd 2018, University of Suffolk, IP4 1QJ - 10am – 3pm

- ✚ A screening of the film 'RESILIENCE' documenting the ACE research, which shows the science behind how Adverse Childhood Experiences effect development and wellbeing, throughout life.
- ✚ Mine Conkyabir; presents the neuroscience of early brain development and how stress and trauma affect self-regulation capacity
- ✚ Janet Goodall, University of Bath presents her research: narrowing the gap through strong parent engagement.
- ✚ Networking opportunities with discussions addressing research, issues and practical solutions.
- ✚ Laura Henry presents her video link interview with Stuart Shanker Professor of Philosophy and Psychology York university Canada founder of the MEHRIT Centre, which works with young people to enable them to manage themselves through self regulation.

This is a FUNDED day provided by the Ipswich Research School. Any practitioner working within an educational setting within the Ipswich Opportunity Area will be able to claim cover time to attend this. Claim forms will be sent out on booking. A maximum of 2 practitioners per setting will be eligible for this funding

Date: May 23rd 2018, University of Suffolk, IP4 1QJ - 10am – 3pm

Cost: £65 per attendee (Includes lunch and refreshments)

For all bookings or further information please email Vanessa Bally at Ipswich research school: vanessa.bally.ipswich@researchschool.org.uk